

Dear Ms. Noble

I'm very pleased to announce that the May 2012 issue of our online book review magazine "Reviewer's Bookwatch" features a review of "A Lifetime of Recipes: Fabulous Fresh Fruit".

Here is the review:

Reviewer's Bookwatch: May 2012
James A. Cox, Editor-in-Chief
Midwest Book Review
278 Orchard Drive, Oregon, WI 53575

Heidi's Bookshelf

A Lifetime of Recipes: Fabulous Fresh Fruit
Beverly Jo Noble
Noble Printing Services
bev4recipes@gmail.com
9780984897470, $24.95

The author presents a collection of recipes in the traditional style. Cooks looking for a baseline resource can consider the book a useful addition. Organized by season containing recipes for matching product. The book is more meaningful for those living in California, as it reflects seasonal availability for this region.

Readers will find the recipes are laid out in a two-column style reminiscent of older style books. The only consideration is making sure you are working from the correct recipe after looking away. "A Lifetime of Recipes" also comes with the ordinary, frustrating binding - like most new cooking titles, the spine is more of a large-magazine style that doesn't open flat or easily stay open. Fortunately, the book also offers colorful pictures to go with the style reminiscent of that magazine.

Overall the recipes offered good flavors. A number of the completed results needed some help when it comes to appearance. While the Greek Chicken Soup won our taste buds over, everyone agreed more visual appeal would be a big boost. Unfortunately, a recipe for salmon crusted with orange and cranberry needed more help. The flavors did not combine successfully. Perhaps a fish with white flesh, say cod or haddock, would work better, but pork would've have been our first choice. The Mediterranean Lamb Chops recipe, on the other hand, offered taste worthy of repeating in my home kitchen.

Heidi Sue Roth
Reviewer

You have complete permission to utilize the review in any manner you deem useful for marketing and promotion.

Additionally, this review will be archived on our Midwest Book Review website for the next five years at <http://www.midwestbookreview.com>

Please send an email notification to my attention at mwbookrew@aol.com for your future titles as they are published and become available to the reading public.

James A. Cox
Editor-in-Chief
Midwest Book Review
278 Orchard Drive
Oregon, WI, 53575